```
(a4*x0*exp(x0) + a6*x0*exp(a2*x0))(a5*exp(a3*x0*(a1 + 2*x0)))
          a1 = -1.5, a2 = -0.368039^{+0.00809(2.2\%)}_{-0.00809(2.2\%)}, \mathrm{a3} = -0.0276826^{+0.00248(8.96\%)}_{-0.00248(8.96\%)}, \ \ \mathrm{a4} = 1.23207e - 05^{+3.42e}_{-3.42e}^{-06(27.8\%)}, a6 = 1.23941^{+0.0375(3.03\%)}_{-0.0375(3.03\%)}
          a5 = 0.478844^{+0.0415(8.67\%)}_{-0.0415(8.67\%)},
                                                                                                                                                   Candidate #21
                                                                                                    \chi^2/NDF = 6.04/14, RMSE = 0.009869, R2 = 0.9835
   1.1
   1.0
   0.9
   0.8
                                                                                                                                                Best-fit
                                                                                                                                                a2 Up (+1\sigma) 0.7
                                                                                                                                                a2 Down (-1\sigma)
                                                                                                                                                Data
      1
                                                                                                                                                                         Data – Fit
Uncertainty
      0
     -1
      1
      1
0.995
                                                                                                                                                     10
                                        2
                                                                                               6
                                                                                                                           8
```