```
a4(a1 + exp(x0))*(a5 + tanh(a3x0*x0(a2 + x0)))
          a1 = -1.14, a2 = -0.69035^{+0.273(39.5\%)}_{-0.273(39.5\%)}, \text{a3} = 0.566188^{+0.119(21.0\%)}_{-0.119(21.0\%)}\text{,} a4 = 0.986698^{+0.00056(0.0568\%)}_{-0.00056(0.0568\%)},
                                                                                                                                                        Candidate #12
          \mathbf{a5} = \mathbf{2.32613}^{+0.106(4.56\%)}_{-0.106(4.56\%)}
                                                                                                           \chi^2/NDF = 1.89/5, RMSE = 0.04533, R2 = 0.9946
                                                                                                                                                      Best-fit
   3.0
                                                                                                                                                     a5 Up (+1\sigma)
                                                                                                                                                     a5 Down (-1\sigma)
                                                                                                                                                     Data
   2.5
   2.0
   1.5
   1.0
   0.5
                                                                                                                                                                                Data – Fit
Uncertainty
      0
  -0.5
 1.03
      1
0.975
                                                                           2
                                                                                                            3
```